Response to Reading: Tuesday, January 12, 2010

Constitutions & the Creation of the New Nation

Core theme: Creating the New Nation: The Revolution and Constitutional Development

Reading:

- Constitutions and the Creation of the New Nation reading packet
- Retrieving the American Past, chapter “Creating the Nation: Constitutional Development”

As you read, think about the following questions and answer them in one to two typed pages:

How do the United States Constitution and the Ohio Constitution of 1803 reflect the ideas about politics and government that were prevalent in the US in the years during and after the American Revolution?

Are there ways in which these two documents reflect different points of view in the debate at the time on government and politics?