

Assassination Newspaper Article

Assignment: You are to use the knowledge you gained from this lesson to create a newspaper article about the events of Archduke Franz Ferdinand and his wife Sophie's death.

Point of View: This article can be written from any country's point of view. However, it must be obvious to the reader who is writing the article. For instance, if this article is being printed in an American newspaper, you would need to include the repercussions this event may have for the United States.

Nationalism: Be sure to include the role that nationalism played in the assassination and the events that led up to it.

Picture and Caption: You must include a picture from the period and a caption.

Grading: Your article will be worth 100 points and will be graded based on the rubric below. Please turn this sheet in with your assignment.
