

Why do we find value in things today?

Novelty? Rarity? Beauty? Special Individual Connections? Fun? Trendy?

Why do things like baseball cards, comic books and collectable erasers have any value?

